COMMUNITY SPIRIT MAY BE DEVELOPED VIA PARCEL POST

POSTMASTER CUNNINGHAM INDICATES A WAY TO DRAW CITY AND COUNTRY INTO CLOSER RELATION.

NEWSPAPERS CAN HELP

Gazette Can Do Much to Point the Way to Both Merchants and Farmers—Suggests Parcel Post Department.

Janesville communication spirit may be effectively promoted and extended via parcel post, according to Postmaster J. Cunningham, who outlines his ideas on the subject in a letter published below. Mr. Cunningham believes that the newspapers service both to the city and country dwellers and that the business interests of Janesville can be promoted most effectively if the parcel post habit can be developed.

His communication follows:

On the 30th ult. pursuant to instructions from the postoffice department, men with the facilities for delivering parcel merchandise, addressed a letter to a good many of the merchants and to some other business men of our city giving them some information on the subject.

Newspapers Opportunity.

You will pardon me if I presume to suggest to the Gazette its opportunity along this line. It is a privilege never been so opportune for a newspaper to serve the city and country population as is now offered to the industrial developments and the establishment by the postoffice of rural and telephone service.

The telephone and rural and parcel post service wipes out the difference in a business between residents in the city and in the country. The telephone and mail give the same opportunities to the residents of the country and villages that is afforded the town people, and it is but human nature that they desire to use that service. But the village and the rural people don't know that that service can be had without additional cost, and the Gazette and the merchants of Janesville have so far failed to understand, or to make known to the trading public that merchandise of every kind can be delivered to the door of farmers and urban people fifty miles away as cheaply and as efficiently as they can be delivered to residents within the limits of this city. This can be done through the parcel post service of the postoffice, which charge for which service is merely nominal and which is rendered by the rural delivery men, rendered by it without additional expense to the rural delivery is made anyhow for first class mail.

Janesville Must Act.

This service and these facts are appreciated in many communities and are being taken advantage of, and the merchants in Janesville must act now and act quickly or the "scoop" will be taken by neighboring communities whose opportunities are less favorable but whose enterprise is greater.

Fond du Lac merchants began three years ago issuing co-operative catalogs and advertising in the daily papers to promote selling in the towns and in the country and counties adjoining Fond du Lac. The co-operation of the merchants has been secured through the business community organization. They are meeting with splendid success. The merchants there are doing a large parcel post selling and are effectively meeting the competition that has existed in Fond du Lac.

In Green Bay W. D. Cook and Henry were company established a parcel post department of its own on a large scale. The farmers from fifty to one hundred miles away are sending their orders to the company's store have been fully informed by the company that when one of them wants hardware in a hurry a call on the phone or a letter will bring any article by first mail and hand delivery of hardware merchandise quicker than a farmer could obtain it by writing to a mail order house. A community spirit is being built up about Green Bay and Fond du Lac that is based not alone on sentiment but primarily on a dollar and cent basis, which after all is the real basis for any lasting co-operation.

The Gazette in this vicinity is the only practical means for communication between the merchants and their patrons, and prospective patrons, except by means of co-operative catalogs.

In some communities the newspaper has published, containing the advertisements of merchants, what is termed a "Parcel Post Supplement," while other newspapers have called the new feature "The Parcel Post Department" or "Parcel Post Section."

The details of every merchant's business along this line must be in a large measure worked out by himself, but the merchants of our city must act and act promptly or the business they now have will be cut into to a large extent by more enterprising merchants in neighboring cities.

This office will cooperate in every way possible to aid our merchants to facilitate the delivery of parcel post. Not only the big merchants and those handling large articles of merchandise, but every business man having anything to sell or any service to render that there is a demand for in the country and villages should take advantage of it. Janesville can be made the center to which patrons along rural mail lines turn when they want any article of merchandise delivered to them whether it weighs one ounce or 50 lbs.

Respectfully,
J. J. CUNNINGHAM,
Postmaster.

K. C'S ENTERTAIN TOMORROW EVENING

Carroll Council Will Hold Musical Entertainment and Lunch for Members and Ladies.

Members of Carroll Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, will hold musical entertainment and luncheon tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in their club quarters in the Jackson block. Knights and their families and lady friends will be present.

J. Parnell Egan of Chicago, a member of the Knights of Columbus lecture bureau, will be given over to the singer, who has a full program of excellent numbers and a rendition that has pleased hundreds of gatherings with its light and beautiful expressiveness.

It was originally planned by Carroll Council to have this event as a conspicuous occasion in the opening of the new quarters in the Myers Hotel block, but on account of conditions met by the contractor who is in charge of the renovation of the rooms, however, has delayed progress and made former plans impossible. The engaging of Mr. Egan could not be postponed until a later date, and the Knights were forced to go forward with their party.

USE STEAM TO THAW CLOGGED-UP DRAINS

Street Department Takes Precautions to Guard Against Flooding When Snow Melts.

Steam pipes are being used to thaw out sewer and gutter intakes by the street department as the drains have become clogged almost solid with ice since the thaw and recent freeze-up. Steam from a traction engine is forced into pipes which are laid down into the sewers and intakes, melting the walls of ice.

The work is being done early this year so as to prevent for sudden thaws such as impaired traffic last week. The freezing of the intakes causes the flood water to accumulate at the street intersections and crosswalks and the clogging of the sewers is calculated to prevent such conditions. Unless there is a sudden change in the weather the work will require a week's time.

The city commissioner discussed the advisability of purchasing the latest type of a "pick-up" sweeper for use in the street department, and one of these machines may be obtained providing the city can raise the money here is assured by investigation, the machine has brush sweepers that force the street debris in a pan where it is enclosed until dumped. At the same time water may be sprinkled over the streets to prevent dust from raising. Much complaint is raised over the present system because there is no satisfactory method of picking up the street sweepings. The machine is about five hundred dollars, complete, and it is said that this saving could be gained through the saving of labor and the purchase of the sweeper was left in the hands of the Superintendent of Streets P. J. Goodman, who will give the matter his attention.

SPORTS

MUST FIGHT TO BEAT EVANSVILLE FRIDAY; STATE TITLE DOPE

Janesville Five Face Crucial Game of Season at Cut-Off City—Beloit Barely Beat Evansville.

The hardest game of the season for the state elimination contests and tourney games for the Janesville high school basketball team is to be the contest next Friday evening against Evansville at the Cut-Off City. The fact that the Beloit high school team, defeated as it was by Janesville, only won from Evansville on the Beloit floor last Friday night by a score of 27 to 18, with Evansville leading up to the final moments, puts a crimp in the Beloit team's chances for a clean record. The Rockford contest proved that Beloit were out of Janesville's class.

"There is only one thing to do," said Captain Stickney, and that is to keep the score low as in the Rockford battle, by close guarding. That is the only way, I feel, that we can beat Evansville."

Evansville does not play on the little gymnasium, but on a large and beautiful gymnasium. Instead, a large and beautiful gymnasium has been erected, the only disadvantage being the slippery floor, which is used for dancing. The Janesville players believe they stand an equal chance to win despite the odds against them.

Captain Stickney came out of the Waukegan game all right. He is not suffering from the knocks sustained against the hard wall, the same place where many other high school players have received injuries. Up to this year, the high school saw to it that the corners and sharp places were well padded, but this was not done this year. As the result, Stickney received a blow last Friday that might have been worse.

State Title Dope. There is every indication that Appleton will not remain in the title race much longer. After taking two defeats by Fond du Lac and West Green Bay, Appleton looks like one of the weak teams. The latter, however, has a chance at Fond du Lac later in the season. Janesville must trim Evansville to have a clear showing along with Beloit and Burlington. Racine, early favorite, may receive teams, and thus far they have not played. The most important games hanging on the sectional title.

Fond du Lac is going at a merry clip, and promises to make a strong fight for the state championship. La Crosse trims Madison at Madison this week, then the Capital City team are entirely eliminated, and La Crosse will stand as undefeated champs of their section. It looks as though the state flag was to be set this year without much trouble. Fewer teams are in the field, and the present outlook is that Fond du Lac, Appleton, La Crosse, and Beloit are the strong teams. There are but a dozen other teams who will fight for the other four places.

BOXERS USE GREASE TO ESCAPE CLINCH

Fighter Who Uses This Method Aids to His Apparent Cleverness Slipping out of Clinches.

By Hal Sheridan. Feb. 8.—Some of the tricks of the ring still are in use, and the new generation of boxers, of course, the days when a boxer could work his man around to the ropes and then slip out of a clinch with a board and put him to sleep are past. But there are several "tricks" which oiled boxers use to escape a clinch, and the most common of all is the use of grease. A fighter who uses his body to slip in and out of clinches about ten times as fast as he could with his skin not so slippery. From the viewpoint of the audience fan he appears cleverer and slicker on his feet.

Willie Beecher's recent ten round battle with Champion Freddie Brown at the Garden, the East Side gym, was as slippery as an eel. He slipped much faster than he really is, and he got away with it in good shape. The referee could have disallowed him had he so minded, but as he was Welsh or his seconds didn't object, Beecher stayed grease.

Another aged wheeze still in vogue is that of plastering their faces down with camphor ice. There are two objects in this. One, to keep the hair from dropping down over the eyes, and two, camphor ice when in close proximity to the eyes has a tendency to make them blink and water a little. It isn't harmful,

CHRISTIE WHIPPED BY "CAVEMAN" MOHA

Milwaukee Middleweight Settles Ancient and Bitter Grudge Against Home Town Rival.

A knockdown in the fourth round was the turning point in the battle between Bob Moha and Gus Christie, two pure Milwaukee products in the middleweight division, for Moha wore Christie down thereafter and had a clean margin at the finish of the ten rounds. For three rounds Christie stood Moha off and had a good lead through his cleaner punching and long range fighting. The "caveman" made a poor fight of the mill by trying to huz and wrestle his grudge rival's strength until he was almost helpless before his shorter and more powerful opponent.

Moha sent him to the floor twice, but he managed to hang on and Moha, brother of Bob, bested him in eight rounds in hard fought battle. George Fletcher won on a foul from Eddie Harris in six rounds.

Boxers Await Gong. New York, Feb. 8.—Joe Shugrue and Champion Freddie Welsh await the gong which will bring them to the ring for the second time in Madison Square Garden tonight. Word from training camps shows that both are down to weight—135 pounds, and in fighting condition. Shugrue expressed confidence that he would whip the Britisher by a wider margin than he did the first time, while Welsh declares the result of the first battle was against him as he was "stated" in fighting too much. If Welsh fails to beat Shugrue, New York promoters declare that his drawing ability will be lost in Gotham. Shugrue has been matched to meet John Griffiths at Akron, Ohio, on February 22nd over the twelve round rope.

Held to Draw. Columbus, O., Feb. 8.—Ad Wolgast and Cy Smith boxed twelve rounds to a draw here last night. Wolgast was unable to use his right hand much, which was injured in a New York bout with Welsh.

FLYING FISH GAVE HIM IDEA FOR FLYING BOAT.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) New York, Feb. 8.—Albert S. Janin, cabinet-maker, has quit his job. It was a good job, and paid him five dollars a day, but he doesn't need the money now. For the next ten years of his life, at least, he can sit back in his easy chair and watch the money roll in.

The other day the Board of Examiners in Chief of the Patent office sent Janin a telegram. It informed him that he and not Glen H. Curtiss was the inventor of the hydro-aeroplane. The board's decision was unanimous, and now Janin will get royalties on every hydro-aeroplane that has been manufactured, is being built now, or will be built within the next decade.

Janin has been living at Rosebank, Staten Island, and he says he will continue to live there. "We will stay here, where I was born and reared," he declared, but no more of these

The making of the American association into a major league calls for a reference to a gentleman who lived in our home town. He had about two acres of orchard and the county fair offered a prize for the greatest variety of apples grown in any one orchard. The gentleman played the most bewildering array of varieties and swept the prize list. After a while someone remarked: "Parson, how does it come you have so many varieties of apples in so small an orchard?" "Well, I'll tell you," he replied calmly. "It's just as easy to name an apple as it is to name a calf."

Fleider Jones will surely prove himself a capable manager if he can bring that St. Louis Feds team up to a respectable position in the coming race. It is not much of a team when the roster is looked over. It is believed that it has been somewhat improved over last season, but is still a great distance from being classy. The team is composed of: Catchers—Simon, Hartley and Chabman; a fair trio. Pitchers—Plank, Groom, Willett, Davenport and Crandall; a doubtful bunch. Infielders—Borton, E. Johnson, Bridgell, Corbett and Deat; three major league discards, one substitute and one minor leaguer. Outfielders—Marsans, Ward, Miller, Tobin and Kirby. Fielders—Jones will have to have real genius to make a winning combination out of this outfit.

Tommy Lowe, the veteran lightweight, who boxed Bruno Lang at Akron the other night, in the semi-final round, to the Welsh grip, is the real marathon boxer of the country. Tommy has been boxing for the past eleven years and is always on the jump. Since beating E. O. Brown at Washington New Year's day, Lowe has boxed Terry Jones in Richmond, Eddie Christie in Savannah, Jack Deener in New York and Lang at Akron.

Hans Wagner signed his first baseball contract in 1905, when he played for a Steubenville (Ohio) team. Wagner had a six-month contract, paying for $35 per month. The way he has not signed his 1915 contract as yet, but it is a matter which no one in Pittsburgh ever worries about, for Wagner usually affixes his signature in the spring.

Oil Your Rubbers. Before wearing your rubbers roll them well with vaseline, lard or sweet oil, letting it remain on for a day or two. The greater part will be absorbed by the rubber and the grease will prevent the rubber from breaking. The superfluity oil can be removed with a soft cloth.

AMUSEMENTS

MR. HOPPER'S KO-KO IS MOST ENJOYABLE

Revival of Comic Opera by De Wolf Hopper and the Gilbert-Sullivan Opera Co. at Myers Theatre Last Evening Delights Huge Audience.

"The Mikado," or "The Tale of the Tailor of Tulle," is easily the best comic opera ever staged and the perfect work of De Wolf Hopper and the Gilbert and Sullivan singers tends to keep it in the position of the first comic opera on the stage today.

The audience last evening was in excellent accord with the entire evening's proceedings and broke into loud applause at frequent intervals throughout the performance.

Mr. Hopper's "Ko-Ko" provides a splendid outlet for his exuberant methods and also provides him with his due share of the songs. His clowning in the song, "The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring," was well received, and Mr. Hopper responded to several encores. He sang "Tit-Wit-Low" in an imitable comic manner, and with deep feeling and gusto.

"The Moon and I," and "Hearts Do Not Break," were songs that delighted by their sheer loveliness. The work of the orchestra, directed by Clarence West, was of the highest order here. Miss Kate Condon was seen as Katsi and she proved an able opponent to Ko-Ko.

Arthur Aldridge as Nanki-Poo, Herbert Vaters as Pish-Tee, and Arthur Cunningham as the Mikado gave admirable performances in their respective parts.

Miss Idelle Patterson was seen as Yum-Yum, Miss Gladys Caldwell as Pitti-Sing, and Miss McComb as Peep-Bo, wards of Ko-Ko.

In all last evening's performance of "The Mikado" can be summed up as a perfect performance of a perfect work, beautifully arranged upon the stage and worthy the patronage which was accorded it.

BELOIT BOUTS DECLARED OFF BY PROMOTER CLARK

Word from James Clark, president of the Beloit Athletic club, shows that no bouts will be held by that club this winter. It was proposed to match "Wildcat" Ferns and Spike Kelly ten rounds in the main event, but Ferns wanted too much of a guarantee. According to Clark, Ferns wanted the first mortgage on the block and an option on the postoffice—and two round trip tickets from Kansas City in reply the Beloit matchmaker stated John D. Rockefeller, Morgan or any of their relatives were not running the club, and were not even members.

KANSAS CITY OUSTED FROM FEDERAL LEAGUE

President Gilmore of Outlaws Declares Kansas City Cannot Support Club in Proper Manner.

Kansas City, Feb. 9.—J. A. Gilmore, president of the Federal league, confirmed the report that Kansas City organization next year, in a telegram received here today.

Pres. Gilmore's telegram, which came to Chicago in answer to message of inquiry sent him by the Kansas City club, stated that the Kansas City club was not to be represented in the federal league in the future.

"I want to thank the people of Kansas City for the support given our club last year and believe when they are fully acquainted with the details of the transfer, they will not criticize the Federal league."

JUDGE, THAT'S THE FIRST WARD. THE BLUE BLOODS LIVE THERE. NEARLY ALL OF THEM USE THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

OF COURSE THEY WANT THE BEST. I'M GLAD THEY ARE. CHEWING TOBACCO SO PLENTIFULLY THAT THE POOR CAN ENJOY IT AS WELL AS THE RICH.

THE MAYOR POINTS OUT MATTERS OF INTEREST.

TO enjoy life is a fine art— for a tobacco chewer there's nothing so comforting and friendly as "Right Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew. That's the reason why men tell their friends about it.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size of a regular chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away.

Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes. How it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Note how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WHY NOT CONSOLIDATE?

Why not consolidate the various allied interests of the state government into one compact unit the direct charge of one capable director. In plain words why not adopt the United States government methods of handling various allied interests in departments, the heads of which are named by the governor for a term of two years, and the subordinate men chosen from the ranks of civil service employees. Take, for instance, the agricultural interests of the state. At present we have the state board of agriculture, the board of veterinarian examiners, the state veterinarian, the state board of immigration, the livestock sanitary board, inspector of apertures, livestock breeders' association, commission to prevent injury to crops, and the stallion registration board, and other minor offices all working in the interests of the agriculturalist. Why not combine them into one unit? Why not have one commissioner handle all the work, with a capable secretary and clerks in charge of the departments? It would be an enormous saving in expenses as well as assuring efficiency in service. It is not a theoretical idea. It is based on solid common sense. To-day the agricultural interests are not represented on the state board of agriculture, are not consulted as to their interests and welfare in other departments, and with a state of the agricultural importance that Wisconsin is, it is time that steps should be taken to remedy this evil. What could be accomplished in the agricultural interests could also be worked out in all the other branches of public health, game and fisheries and the unwieldy political ribbed machine of administration of these various interests could be done away with and efficient men named, and the state really given the service for which it is now paying two prices.

THE STATE FAIR.

Two years ago Janesville, through its patriotic and philanthropic citizens, entertained the joint legislative committee investigating the site for a permanent location of the state fair, and offered the land that would be needed for the fair.

While this committee was discussing the generous offerings made by Janesville, Madison and Oshkosh, the chairman of the Milwaukee county board of supervisors, at Milwaukee, was influenced by Mr. C. Neacy and others of Milwaukee, to give the committee to understand that inasmuch as other cities of the state were offering land to get the fair, that Milwaukee would donate such land as was deemed adequate and equitable to keep the fair in its present location.

On the strength of that information the committee decided in favor of the location. The further recommendation that the legislature appropriate $250,000 for the improvement of grounds, with the specific understanding that Milwaukee county turn over additional land for fair purposes.

It is conceded by every one who knows conditions that no large amount of money should be invested upon the present grounds and as Milwaukee county has refused to enlarge the grounds any attempt to get this $250,000 would not be justified in the face of the unkept promises.

The two years have now passed and Milwaukee has not made good her promises nor kept faith with the people of the state. None of the members of the state board of agriculture are willing to cut the strings with the hope of getting this quarter of a million in money.

Milwaukee has now three members on the board of agriculture, one vice-president, and they have just elected a Milwaukee man secretary. In the face of these conditions and refusal of the Milwaukee county board to keep their promises we question the wisdom of the legislature's action in setting aside the claims of Janesville, Madison and Oshkosh in favor of keeping the fair in Milwaukee.

UNFORTUNATE CONDITION.

It is unfortunate just at this time when all prospects for a successful Janesville fair for Nineteen Fifteen are most bright, that two men who were leading spirits in the organization of the fair project, who aided materially in making the first fair a success and who were unanimously re-elected members of the board of directors of the Park Association, should hand in their resignations. While their places on the board of directors will be filled by the board itself, it is to be deplored that conditions arose which compelled these gentlemen to withdraw their active support from an organization in which they had played such an important part. The resignation of Frank P. Croak and Charles Putnam as members of the board of directors, is an opportunity and regretted by their many friends, among the stockholders who showed their confidence in them at the time of the annual meeting, by turning over to them a majority of their property to vote for them. However, Janesville will have a fair during the coming summer and it is expected it will be as successful as the first attempt, and it is up to citizens generally to support it regardless of any personal feelings to the contrary. It is a Janesville institution and bigger than even a board of directors in its scope.

PLACES THE BLAME.

While everyone is optimistic as to the future the fact remains that there is considerable unrest throughout the country that does not explain itself by any real reason. The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin seeks to lay the blame for the conditions that are known to the democratic administration and says:

"When ex-President Roosevelt says that 'never before in our history were so many people suffering from lack of employment for no fault of their own' he may exaggerate a little, but there is no question that many people are out of employment, and no doubt that somebody is to blame for it. The foundation element of prosperity is good crops, and last year's harvest was the greatest American farmers ever gathered. Moreover the nation is not at war, and other countries which are at war are buying American products at good prices. Industrial enterprise has been discouraged by administration policies, and the administration represents a minority of the American people. There is a profound conviction on the part of many that if Republican fiscal policies had continued business prosperity would have been uninterrupted, and that the blame for the political revolution which has proved prejudicial to business rests upon an aspirant for a third term in the Presidency, whose machinations split the Republican party and placed the control of affairs in the hands of those who now are at the helm."

NO DELAYS.

There will be no serious delays in handling legislation during the present session of the legislature. The date for the presentation of bills is now fixed and the committees are at work threshing out the wheat from the chaff that they may refer back to the legislative branches the best measures for consideration. This is a legislature that means business and they are settling down to the work with a vim that betokens successful issue for various interests of the state as a whole.

Now up pops the plan to hold the state fair in Janesville again. Well Janesville is ready to welcome the state fair and give them the freedom of the Park Association grounds and bring to the city such crowds that the receipts will make the Milwaukee all-herents of the fair sit up and take notice. Get busy gentlemen and invite the fair here.

I've seen 'em dance the Tango thing,
The Texas Tommy, too;
I've seen 'em dance the Bunny Hug,
As some folks like to do.
I've looked on at the Turkey Trot,

I've got a spot at fondness for
The old-time Waltz Quadrille.

The Corkscrew dance I have observed,

The Boston and the other sort
Too numerous to tell.
I've seen the gay Pareisis Glide,
The Kangaroo I've met,
But still I have a special spot for
The stately Minuet.

I can't keep up the racking pace
The young folks make today;
New fangled dances get my goat,
My leg they just give away.
They say the new stuff is all right,
And if the truth is told
I guess the fault is with myself,
I must be growing old.

What's the Use?
He grew so very portly that he was ashamed to go and weigh.
It seemed to him as though he gained at least 15 pounds every day.
His friends protested that he was so fat he really was a sight.
His waist line grew and grew until it worried him both day and night.
He bought a longer belt each week and deeply sighed for days of sorrow.
When, of a panatella shape, he weighed one hundred pounds, no more.
He read an ad one day which told about a fine new angle.
Which would relieve him of his flesh in manner that was safe and sure.
He bought some of the Anti-Fat and took it on his daily rounds.
He took nine bottles, then he weighed and found he'd gained forty pounds.

GRIMM WINS PRAISE IN BARRON COUNTY

Conducts Adjourned Jury Session of Court in Northern County in Usual Able Manner.

Judge George Grimm of the twelfth judicial circuit, recently conducted an adjourned session of the November term of circuit court for Barron county. The Barron Shield has the following to say of Grimm's ability as displayed in the cases he tried:
"In the few days he has presided, Judge Grimm has made an impression as a most able jurist. His rulings are eminently fair and he has a decisive way of stopping all quibbling or taking up unnecessary time in the proceedings. His preliminary address to the jurors was regarded as a masterpiece by all who were fortunate enough to hear it."

WINTER DOUBLES WORK.

In summer the work of eliminating poisons and acids from the blood is helped by perspiration. In cold weather, with little out door work or exercise to cause sweating, the kidneys have to do double work. Foley Kidney Pills help overworked, weak and diseased kidneys to filter and cast out of the blood the waste matter that causes pains in sides or back, rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness of joints, sore muscles and other ills resulting from improper elimination.—W. Hull, Eng., Feb. 9.—When the whistles blow at night, street lamps will be switched off, street cars stopped and all citizens should run for their basements. SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS CIRCUIT COURT DECISION IN ITALIAN FACE SLASHING AFFAIR

"ALIBI" IS CONSIDERED

Opinion Says Jury Was Well Warranted in Disbelieving Alibi Evidence of Defense.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison, Feb. 8.—The supreme court by Justice Marshall today affirmed the opinion of the Rock county circuit court in the state case of the state vs. Philip Loguidice, in which the latter appeared claiming that error was committed in the points below. The supreme court points out that it has not overlooked the claim of the defendant for by Loguidice. "The jury was well warranted in disbelieving the evidence on that point," says the opinion. "Neither have we overlooked the claim that there has been some blood between the girl and mother on the one side, and accused and his people on the other. The jury weighed that evidence and found it wanting. His testimony was discredited in several ways. The jury might well have found it. Considering all the circumstances, the jury doubted and disbelieved it and we cannot say that it was not warranted in doing so, judgment affirmed."

In many respects this was one of the most peculiar cases that had come before the supreme court. The evidence showed that Francesco D'Amore, of Beloit, on her way home from work with two other girls, was attacked by a man who cut a deep gash in her face. Philip Loguidice had often asked Francesco to marry her, according to the testimony, but she had refused. On the evening of November 24, 1912, while returning from her employment at the H. Rosenblatt & Sons, Beloit, she was attacked. Loguidice was arrested and given his freedom on $2000 bail. In the case of M. F. Baringer vs. the Rock County Sugar Company, the judgment of the lower court was reversed. A contract was entered into by the plaintiff and defendant whereby the plaintiff was to receive the disposal of the pulp of the latter's best factory. The supreme court reversed the judgment of the lower court and remanded the case for judgment in favor of the plaintiff, the amount due him being $1894.75 with interest from November 13, 1896.

The case of Romey, a town of Lima farmer, against the Rock County Sugar company, was reversed by the supreme court today, the decision being in favor of the sugar company. The appeal was taken from the decision in Judge Grimm's court, which was in favor of Romey.

DECLARES NEW YORK WOULD LEAVE PARTY

Senator O'Gorman Claims Eastern State is Dissatisfied With Democrats and Their Government.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Feb. 8.—Senator O'Gorman in a denunciation of the conduct of the senate's business, declared it was doubtful if the state of New York would remain in the democratic column and that certainly would not if the people should find out their representatives in the senate could be bound hand and foot by a caucus.

"The proceedings of this senate in the last week have been burlesque on constitutional government," said Senator O'Gorman. "A command came from the walls of the capitol to pass this ship purchase bill before the appropriation bill."

"The situation in which the democratic party now finds itself may well excite the anxiety of those who love the party. The likelihood of New York state remaining in the democratic column is doubtful. If you would remove the last lingering hope of New York remaining in the democratic column, let it be known that in a caucus of senators the 32 or 33 democrats can bind the representative from New York state hand and foot."

PUTNAM AND CROAK HAVE RESIGNED AS MEMBERS OF BOARD

Resignations as Members of Directors of Park Association Accepted at Last Meeting.

Charles Putnam and Frank P. Croak, who were elected members of the board of directors of the Park Association at the last annual meeting, tendered their resignation to the board of directors and they were accepted at the last meeting of the board held in their new rooms in the Jackson block, last night.

Mr. Putnam and Mr. Croak, owing to it is understood, to personal differences with the board members, Mr. Putnam's resignation has been on file for some time and was acted upon at the last meeting when Mr. Croak also presented his and both were accepted and acted upon. Under the by laws the association the resigning members will be acted upon to proceed to fill the vacancies and it is understood that the names of several gentlemen who have shown much interest in the success of the fair are being considered and will be acted upon at their next meeting.

John Nichols, president of the Park Association, stated this morning that the board resigned, including the resignation of both Mr. Putnam and Mr. Croak and had sought to have them reconsider their action without success, and were forced to accept their resignation. He stated that the matter was then turned over to the board and that the board had decided to accept the resignations of both Mr. Putnam and Mr. Croak and had sought to have them reconsider their action without success, and were forced to accept their resignation.

At the last annual meeting of the Park Association, held over 300 members were represented, person or by proxy, the majority of the proxies being in the hands of Mr. Croak and Mr. Putnam for voting purposes.

Mr. Putnam was then planned to change the persons of the association, somewhat but on motion of members of the stockholders the entire board of directors was re-elected.

At the last year's meeting Mr. Putnam was re-elected and was one of the hardest working members of the board and has served the association as secretary since its organization several years ago.

One of the promoters of the association at its inception, Mr. Croak is one of the largest individual stockholders in the association and has taken an active part in the progress of the association since becoming a member of the board of directors.

President Nichols stated that plans for the coming fair are progressing rapidly and that the association will receive material aid from the state, a bill for that purpose being now before the legislature or considered by it.

That already inquiries are being received, relative to the date and plans for now coming exhibit. The board of directors consists of John Nichols, president; Harry Nowlan, vice-president; Edward Amerphol, treasurer; and John Soultman, secretary.

Offices have been located in the Jackson building where later it is expected a clerk will be employed to take care of the active business of the association as the time for the fair approaches.

Indications point to a successful fair this year and the date will probably be the same as last year, the second week in August.

BOY, 7, PLEADS FOR PET DOG IN NOTE TO SPEAKER; FEARS $2 LICENSE BILL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—John A. Paul, Jr., aged 7, of Milton Junction, has let a note to Speaker Lawrence Whittey saying he fears a license bill for pet dogs will cost him his dog.

"I fear it will cost me my dog," said the boy, "and I don't want to have to pay $2 for a dog license. I have a dog named Spot and I love him very much. I don't want to have to pay $2 for a dog license. I have a dog named Spot and I love him very much. I don't want to have to pay $2 for a dog license. I have a dog named Spot and I love him very much."

In his reply to the boy, Mr. Whittey says: "It is indeed a pleasure to see a boy of 7 years of age taking an active interest in laws which are passed, and I trust that you will always do this, for it means that you will have much better legislation. I know little about the bill, but I will try to help you."

Mr. Whittey should greatly dislike to see a little boy like yourself earn the necessary tax. I remember how difficult it was for me when I was a boy to get together a few pennies, with which to purchase a baseball. I invited little John to come to Madison as his guest so that he may see the legislature in operation.

THERE WAS NO LOSS IN LOCAL OFFICE

Twenty Million Dollar Postoffice Deficit Not Booked by Janesville Office.—$1,500 Gain.

According to the statement of Postmaster General Burleson, the postoffice department during the year of 1914 suffered a deficit of $20,000,000. Chicago reports that the Windy City alone was back to the extent of $1,500,000 during the year over those figures of 1913.

The Janesville postoffice showed a gain. The amount was $1,500. Speaking of this today, Postmaster J. J. Cunningham was of the opinion that this success was not country, particularly that surrounding Janesville, had experienced a better state of prosperity than many other similar sections. The records go to show that the department itself did a better business than in 1913, which is also indicative that the general tendency in Janesville and nearby country was to active moving while other places were standing still.

It is thought that the general demoralization of business affairs prevalent throughout the country was little felt here as shown by the postoffice gain.

MAKES GUILTY PLEA TO ASSAULT CHARGE

W. R. Jordan Charged With Assault and Battery By Wife.—Penalty Announced Wednesday.

William R. Jordan pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery made by his wife Elva in the municipal court this morning. The warrant charged Jordan with mistreating his wife at their home, 102 Rock street, on February 5th, and it is alleged he used his fists freely on the woman, blacking both of her eyes and otherwise mistreating her.

The case was then pronounced by the court this morning, as Judge Macfield wished to hear both sides of the case. In court Jordan stated the trouble was caused by his wife's temperamental habits. He was released in the custody of Constable William Dulin, who made the arrest this morning.

TO FINISH READING OF PLAY NEXT WEEK

Last Act of "Disraeli" Is On Program for Next Monday.—Club Held Interesting Session Last Night.

An interesting meeting of the Janesville Dramatic society was held last evening, at which time the third act of the play, "Disraeli," was read by an able cast. Next Monday evening, the fourth and last act of this famous production will be read.

In answer to the roll call last evening, the members responded with a short story or anecdote of some play or players. Next Monday evening each member will read a short story, with a great character which they are familiar with. Three members of the club will name the best play they ever saw and why they liked it.

It is the desire of the club that all members be present on next Monday evening, when an open discussion on the annual play will be held. Other matters of immediate importance will be brought up at this, the next meeting.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

CHRISTIANITY AND THE WAR.

In my mail the other morning I received a letter from a woman who is gripped and bewildered at the spectacle of the war in arms. She wants to know if I believe that, as some people maintain, Christianity has failed us in a terrible crisis.

To her and to my other reader-friends I want to go on record as answering most emphatically "No!"

Listen. A young Japanese was told the story of Christ. He listened eagerly. The sublime humility, the supreme self-sacrifice stirred his imagination. He began to understand Christianity and what it meant.

The Japanese and the Missionary Teacher.

"I should like to be a Christian," he said, "because Christians have such splendid ethics."

He thought, quite naturally, that Christians patterned themselves and their lives in accordance with teachings of Christ. To have such high "ethics" seemed to him better than holding to the faith of his fathers. And so, eager to be with these Christians and to live as they did, he enrolled in the missionary school. One morning the superintendent, and one of the teachers had an argument over methods. Unfortunately both came close to losing their tempers. The Japanese listened in pained amazement. Finally he went to the woman who had told him the story of Christ.

"How can they be Christians?" he asked.

"Why of course," he was assured.

"Hon. Teacher too?"

"Of course!"

"But," he protested, "how can they be Christians when they are not Christians?"

He went away and thought the matter over. Then he returned. "If Christians are not Christians," he said, "I am not a Christian. Why should I be?"

The Japanese was not satisfied in creed nor dogma. He had found in the story of Christ an ideal. He believed that to live up to it, to be a Christian, would be beautiful. But to be a Christian in name and not in spirit, or to find that other Christians were thus, destroyed his belief.

We Who Have Failed Christianity.

In other words it is not Christianity that has failed us, but we that have failed Christianity. The splendid ideal is still there, even the non-converted Japanese could understand it and be fired by it; it is we who have shut our eyes to the vision.

No, my dear, bewildered reader-friend, it is not Christianity that has failed mankind, but mankind that has failed Christianity.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

Dick was refreshing Nell's memory as to how it came about.

"Would you like to go to the auto show some afternoon, take dinner downtown and go to the theater in the evening?"

"I c—declared."

"You replied,"

"I think it awfully dull standing around looking at machines all the afternoon, but the theater sounds good. On the strength of that I got the tickets and went with Farley to the auto show. What can you object to in that?"

"I don't like to go to the auto show," said Dick, "and I don't like to go to the theater. I positively think sometimes that you are jealous of Farley," he added.

Nell tossed her head. "You will admit that you had such a good time when you came home late, and that we missed part of the first act and disturbed a whole row of people getting our seats. We wouldn't have gone at all if you hadn't bought the tickets, I suppose. And I had my first set on having dinner downtown that night, too."

"Well, why didn't you accept my invitation, then? You just said you didn't care for the auto show. And when we came right down to the history of this stirring event, I asked you the second time if you would like to go down for an hour or two and see the three or four machines really worth seeing. Can't remember that you accepted this second invitation. You either turned it down or said nothing, I don't recall which."

"I know I didn't refuse, for I wanted to go. I thought that last proposition very attractive," said Nell, surveying the lost pleasure from the most attractive angle, the angle of the unattainable.

"Well, dear," and his tone was irritatingly patient, "not being a mind-reader, I did not know that, and still had the idea that you did not care to go."

"You might have found out by asking me."

fore the thing was all over," said his wife moodily.

"Lord! Nell, you are like Tennessee's brook. You go on forever. If we could ever finish with a subject such a relief. Instead we spend precious hours hushing and rehashing some insignificant thing till my nerves are all of a fizzle, and Dick hangs his hands over the chair arms as if reduced to pulp."

"Of course you are the judge of what is significant, and when enough has been said on the subject," retorted Nell. "I hope I can learn to regulate my conversation to please you in time," and she looked out of the window with an injured look. Dick closed his eyes wearily and silence fell.

"See here, dear," he finally said, reaching for her hand and pulling her onto his knee. "The trouble is that when a woman loves a man she loses her infinitesimal sense of humor, as far as the man is concerned."

Animal Jingles

FOR LITTLE FOLK

BY ALICE CREW GALL

MOTHER MCGREW AND CORDELIA CLAM.

Cordelia Clam was an obstinate child. And a most provoking one, too. She lived in the sea, and of course, she belonged to the family of Mother McGrew.

The fault of Cordelia was common enough. You've seen it yourself, I've no doubt. If she didn't feel like it she wouldn't talk. She'd just close her mouth up and pout.

It happened quite often that Mother McGrew had friends in for afternoon tea. And when they had finished they'd go for a stroll on the beach by the side of the sea.

And if they would meet Miss Cordelia they'd say, "Good afternoon, dear, how are you?" Instead of responding politely, she'd pout and embarrass poor Mother McGrew.

Or maybe in school her teacher would say, "Cordelia Clam, you may recite." But she would just sit there and not say a word. Instead, she would close her mouth tight.

Till finally old Mother McGrew said, "Dear me, your stubbornness makes me quite sick. You just can be silent the rest of your life." And she touched her three times with her stick.

That Clam hasn't spoken a word from that day. To this I believe to be true. Though I've met them a lot. I've not heard them make one single remark; now, have you?

I feel pretty sure you don't need this advice. But I think it's a pretty good plan. Whenever you're spoken to always to try, To be as polite as you can.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have been going with a young man for some time and last Sunday, because I wouldn't let him kiss me, he became very angry and has spoken to me since. Please explain why this crime would cause him to act as he does?

(2) A friend of mine and I were disputing over the country and taking part in the European war. Please tell me which countries are with the European war. I don't recall which.

(3) A friend of mine, who is a father, is working for her board in a private family. She doesn't have a car and she is not allowed to have a car. I think he is a bit of a dandy.

(4) Do you think a boy likes a girl better than a very formal one? I rather like a jolly fellow than a stiff one. What do you say?

(5) Give me a good remedy for dandruff.

(1) A man who would get mad at a girl standing up for herself is no gentleman. I should never care to have anything more to do with him.

(2) The allies are England, France and Russia. Japan and Belgium are fighting with the other side. Austria and Turkey are on the other side.

(3) A girl is unfortunate in not having a home and a mother to advise her but a girl of 16 should not be going out evenings. Probably she should not have been receiving love letters. She is too young but all the liberty she desired and left the place. She is sixteen. She complained of the man of the family opening one of her love letters and reading it. I think he has had just cause, don't you? He was not an ignorant man, but well educated.

(4) If you care for each other you will both be willing to wait until she is married. She is far too young to marry now. By the time she is old enough you can have a nice little nest egg saved and be ready with the necessary money to start a home.

(5) If you care for each other you will both be willing to wait until she is married. She is far too young to marry now. By the time she is old enough you can have a nice little nest egg saved and be ready with the necessary money to start a home.

(1) Yes, if she came with a group it would be more courteous to them if he walked along with the group, if it was in the evening.

(2) It is permissible to say to a boy, "Come over some evening," to give him a general invitation to show that his attentions would be welcome, but never to set a time. He must do that.

"What do you mean?" asked Nell, prepared to combat the statement.

"A sense of humor is seeing things in proper perspective. Women make so much of trifles. Kipling hit it when he said of one of his heroines that 'she had no varicoid symptoms.'"

"I don't see what he meant," said Nell, beginning to believe that she was being made fun of.

"Simply this, varicoid is a lighter form of a serious ailment, and the heroine never took anything in any way but the most serious. Every grain of sand in the inclosure of her life was magnified and worried over. Try and see that particles of sand are not large and need not be irritating if you keep them where they belong," explained Dick.

"I suppose you think this affair of your going to the auto show with Farley after inviting me is a grain of sand," Nell said, looking soberly at him.

"That's just it. You are putting it in your eye and it has become very painful. It's such a very little thing, dear, and he drew her head to his shoulder. In the loving silence they smoothed all the wrinkles from their consciousness.

"Don't you want to get to your work and let me read to you?" he asked after a time.

Household Hint

USES FOR PINE PITCH.

First—We use it for cuts or sores of any kind, in place of salve. Heat and apply as hot as possible without burning the skin.

Second—Use on a pall that leaks. Heat and pour on leaky spot, let cool and pall is ready to use.

Third—For a burst water pipe: wind with cloth and pour on some pine pitch. This will not allow pipe to leak if pitch is put on thick and smooth.

UP-TO-DATE RECIPES.

Orange Puffs—Oranges are in their best just now. Work one-third cup butter until creamy; add one cup sugar gradually, while beating constantly; then add two eggs well beaten. Mix and sift 1 1/2 cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder and a few grains of salt and add alternately with half cup milk to first mixture. Fill buttered and floured cup cake tins two-thirds full of mixture and bake in moderate oven 20 minutes. Serve with orange sauce.

Beat whites of two eggs until stiff, add one cup powdered sugar gradually, while beating constantly; add juice and grated rind of two oranges and pure of one lemon.

Vanilla Tart Pie—Top mixture: One and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup lard or butter, one egg, three cups sifted flour, one cup sour milk or buttermilk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon vanilla.

Bean Soup—Take a ham bone after all the meat is used. Get one pound navy beans, one onion, small piece celery and a little tomato. Boil all three hours on slow fire. If one likes, when done beat up one egg in good way to use an old ham bone that might be thrown away.

Mexican Rice—One slice uncooked ham cut into inch-wide pieces, with two finely sliced onions; brown slightly in frying pan; add one cup rice (uncooked and well washed), one can of tomatoes, one teaspoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste, cover with water, set on back of range until rice is thoroughly cooked. Enough for a good-sized family.

Beet Relish or Salad—Two quarts chopped cabbage on bowl, one glass horseradish, sugar, salt and vinegar to taste. This makes a nice salad for large suppers where one cannot make fancy salads. It can also be made when the vegetables are fresh from the garden, and canned in glass jars.

TO SAVE WHITE FLOUR. Corn Puff—Two cups corn meal, one cup flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one cup sugar, teaspoon butter. Mix well.

Dutch Pancakes—Grate two large potatoes, use two teaspoons baking powder, flour enough to make a good batter, cup of milk (if you can spare it; if not, use warm water). Cheap and good.

Brain Food—One quart of coarse mill bran and cup white flour mixed. In another bowl put one pint milk (sweet), one-half teaspoon molasses, two tablespoons sugar. Keep out one-half cup above mixture, add one teaspoon baking soda, add one liquid over bran and milk. Add soda mixture and one-half box raisins. Bake slowly 1 1/2 hours.

CANDY COLORING. For yellow: The grated rind of a deep colored orange worked to pulp.

For green: Use spinach and beat leaves crushed and boiled in a little water.

For pink: The juice of strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, or elderberries, may be used in summer. In winter use the juice of cranberries. Remove seeds and get clear juice. Use a few drops of prepared cochineal will also give pink.

For amber or light brown: Use a few drops of caramel.

NURSE SAVES KIDDIES IN BOMBPROOF CELLAR WHEN JAPS ATTACK TSING TAU

Elizabeth Wieck and Krewerth children she saved from Jap shells.

For three days and nights, during which time huge shells from the Japanese land batteries screamed through the city of Tsing Tau, carrying death and destruction in their paths, Elizabeth Wieck, a Red Cross nurse, cared for two little girls, Anna and Katherine Krewerth, in a bomb-proof cellar and risked her life to obtain food for them. Miss Wieck has just arrived in San Francisco with her small charges, whose mother preferred to remain with her husband in the captured city.
